

PRESS RELEASE

Mobel Linea launches esmou, the collection of office furniture that beckons you to go further.

- An innovative series made up of 8 versatile, light products with wheels to move quickly and satisfy the needs of today's office.

The Cervera office furniture company brings a new line of products to the market that redefine the traditional office concept, offering designs full of versatility, movement and practicality for flexible and multipurpose work spaces.

This collection is carefully designed with wheels to make it easy to move. Thanks to this ability, esmou lets you customise and reorganise your work environment as needed: creating different spaces all in one setting is simple with esmou, from multifunctional areas to agile and collaborative workstations that promote productivity and creativity.

esmou knows that collaboration and connection in work environments is essential. Its design promotes and encourages interaction and communication for the exchange of ideas, while also providing solutions that adapt to technological connectivity: "The office is no longer what it was; it needs changing spaces that promote creativity and interaction".

With this launch, Mobel Linea cements its commitment to versatility and the needs of today's office by focusing on people and their well-being to enhance collaboration, creativity and interaction through furniture.

The entire collection is now available and can be viewed on its website and interactive catalogue.
